Musee D Orsay, Monet's Gardens, long bike treks in the Loire Valley ... these and much more were a feast for the spirit ... 12+ days with my husband .... priceless! And the search, far and wide, for fabric stores and trims in Paris was a true treasure hunt. See two such treasures that I brought home, below.

Energy Efficiency, Comfort and Great Design

I came back just in time for the heat waves ... and was glad to have solar shading window treatments that kept the heat out (and reduced energy consumption, too). Well-lined Draperies, Roman Shades, Blinds, etc. all offer additional cooling for the summer and insulation in the winter. See examples here. I can advise you on ways to save energy and add attractive treatments to your home.

Trends in Window Treatments

A 2013 Trend: Simple Accoutrements – very BIG in France! -- (i.e. braid or banded edging) for Top Treatments or Drapes

Sleek Silhouettes, Green Products, Bamboo Items for Woven Shades & Hardware are a few of the 2013 trends.

Motorized drapes and shades are "in" and are great for hard to reach places, multiple and/or larger treatments. These can be opened/closed at a click of a button (and please the gadget-guru of your family, too!). For more trends, click here.
